Compulsory Social Service (CSS)

CSS is an integral part of the curriculum designed for the UG Programmes of the University of Calicut. It was under the able guidance and supervision of Prof. M P Paulson, Co-ordinator (CSS) all other faculty members that the programmes were carried out on different occasions.

For the College: The first CSS Programme started from within the College on 3 August '12, when all the students in groups took active participation in arranging and beautifying the auditorium and the premises of the College in the wake of the Inauguration of the Academic Year 2012-13.

For the locality: On 4 October '12, the students observed 'Sevanavaram' by clearing the weeds and litter on the pathway leading to the College from Tiger Rock Hills Junction.

Caring for the old: 3 November '12 was a day on which the students were taken to old age homes and shelters for the mentally challenged. They got to experience another real phase of life. The real life stories of many of the inmates melted their hearts and taught them their duties to their parents when they grow old. The students performed variety cultural programmes and also encouraged the inmates to participate along with them. With a promise to visit them frequently, the students contributed a few essentials to the inmates in kind.

Nostalgia, nostalgia... On 14 November '12, all the students chanced to go to their past. One notebook each was collected from students and they were distributed among the boys and girls of the nearby L P School. Our students entertained them with some interesting games and returned with beaming faces, reminiscing their own school days.

Student Corner

Moving out of the School, all of us had apprehensions as to the new horizons we were entering. But, needless to say, SCAS has turned out to be our next home. We have been enjoying each moment and learning quite a lot from the best facilities provided by the College. We are thankful for everything that we enjoy right now and in future.
