Dr. Abraham Vallath

One should differentiate the attainment of knowledge and growth of wisdom distinctly. Merely acquiring knowledge will not mature one with wisdom. The level of wisdom one holds is directly proportional to the level of human values inculcated by one and accumulated in him for years. One's spiritual life is the most essential for one's self-expression, independence and variations in methods of developing one's ideology. The religion of mankind is the achievement of progress due to the existence of the Omnipotent and its divine spark, in which, everyone is one unity and humanity living in peace is the best mode of its expression on earth. By putting in some efforts to establish a state of divine spirit in our lives and by developing it to make in us the feeling of unity and oneness with other fellowmen we allow wisdom to mature and bear fruit in us.

DOVE 2017

The Department of Value Education has chalked out a number of programmes for the academic year 2017-18.

During the month of June the annual spiritual renewal programme and the socio-cultural and moral development programmes were organised for the second year students, while the former had its venue at Jerusalem, Aluva, the latter was organised on the college campus itself. An outing comprising a visit to Pope Paul Mercy Home, Trichur and a short visit to a picnic spot refreshed and rejuvenated the students.

The third year students participated in the spiritual renewal programme at Jerusalem, Thallore in the month of July and non-catholic students enriched themselves through the cultural and moral development programme organised simultaneously on the campus. These students also had the above said outing.

The turn of first year students was in August. As their admission came to an end they too were taken to Gagultha Retreat Centre, Mundur for their spiritual renewal sessions, which lasted for three days.

The non-catholic students had two days seminar on the college campus and on the third day the outing was organised dividing them into two groups and taking them to two different directions. One group went to Trichur side where the previous groups visited and the other group visited Ahaya Bhavan Irinjalakuda, Cheraman Masjid Kodungallur and St. Thomas Cathedral Azhikode.

"Sahridayam" House built by the Sahridayans and donated to Mrs. Bindhu Chandran

Handing over the keys of the House built by the Sahridayans.

Compassion for the poor and needy is a primary area that DOVE has focused its activities in order to inculcate the feeling of oneness with the have nots and the downtrodden Sahridaya Social Service Club collected money from staff and students and constructed a small but beautiful house to a homeless neighbour of the college. The house was blessed by Mar Pauly Kannukkadan, Bishop of Irinjalakuda Diocese and the keys were handed over to its owner on 1st April 2017.
